Your invitation to be part of the WA Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Sector Conference

Since 2008, the Aboriginal Health Council of Western Australia (AHCWA) has hosted the annual WA Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Sector Conference.

The Conference is a key event on the Health Sector calendar and provides an important platform for delegates to collaborate on challenges, share learnings, celebrate successes, and showcase new technologies, programs, products, services, and ideas to improve the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal people in Western Australia. Around 300 delegates attend the Conference.

The 2025 State Sector Conference will take place on Wednesday, 2 and Thursday, 3 July 2025 at the Esplanade Hotel in Walyalup (Fremantle), Western Australia.

The theme for the 2025 Conference is "Nurturing a Strong Tomorrow Through Culture, Care, and Community".

WA Aboriginal Youth Conference

In the same week, AHCWA also hosts the WA Aboriginal Youth Conference. This event is exclusively for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander youth aged 16 to 29 years to come together for a day of personal and professional development, inspiration, and connection with other like-minded young people. 80-100 delegates attend. The Youth Conference will take place on Monday, 30 June 2025.

Partnership Opportunities

We invite your organisation to partner with AHCWA on these important events.

Sponsorship and Exhibitor opportunities are available for both the WA Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Sector Conference and the WA Aboriginal Youth Conference. Packages offer excellent value and return on investment and we would be happy to discuss creative ideas with you to leverage your participation further.

We appreciate your consideration of becoming a 2025 Conference partner and truly value your support.

About the Aboriginal Health Council of Western Australia

The Aboriginal Health Council of Western Australia (AHCWA) is the peak body for Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services (ACCHS) in Western Australia. We exist to support and act on behalf of our 23 Member Services across the state, actively responding to their individual and collective needs.

Governed by an Aboriginal Board of Directors representing seven regions in Western Australia, AHCWA aims to promote and strengthen the ACCHS Model of Care. This model is built around delivering comprehensive, holistic, and culturally secure primary healthcare services. We come together as one to respect, welcome, and understand social and cultural needs; network and provide mutual support; advocate and influence policy; monitor the performance of the ACCHS sector; build the capacity of the Aboriginal health workforce; and improve and strengthen the social and emotional wellbeing of Aboriginal people and their communities. Representing the interests and needs of our Member Services, we lead and influence the development of Aboriginal health policies at the local, regional, state, and national level. We advocate for the rights and entitlements of all Aboriginal people and their communities to optimal health and wellbeing. Incorporated under the Commonwealth Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) in May 2005, AHCWA continues to evolve and build capacity as the leading authority for comprehensive Aboriginal primary health care in Western Australia.

www.ahcwa.org.au

Our Four Key Goal Areas

Enhance and promote the ACCHS Model of Care as the best practice primary health care for Aboriginal people and communities.

Support and strengthen our Member Services to achieve excellence in service delivery.

Lead and influence the state and national Aboriginal health policy and research agenda as determined by our Member Services.

Grow and advance the capacity and capability of AHCWA and our Member Services for long term sustainability.

Our Member Services

23 Member ACCHS located across seven regions in Western Australia.

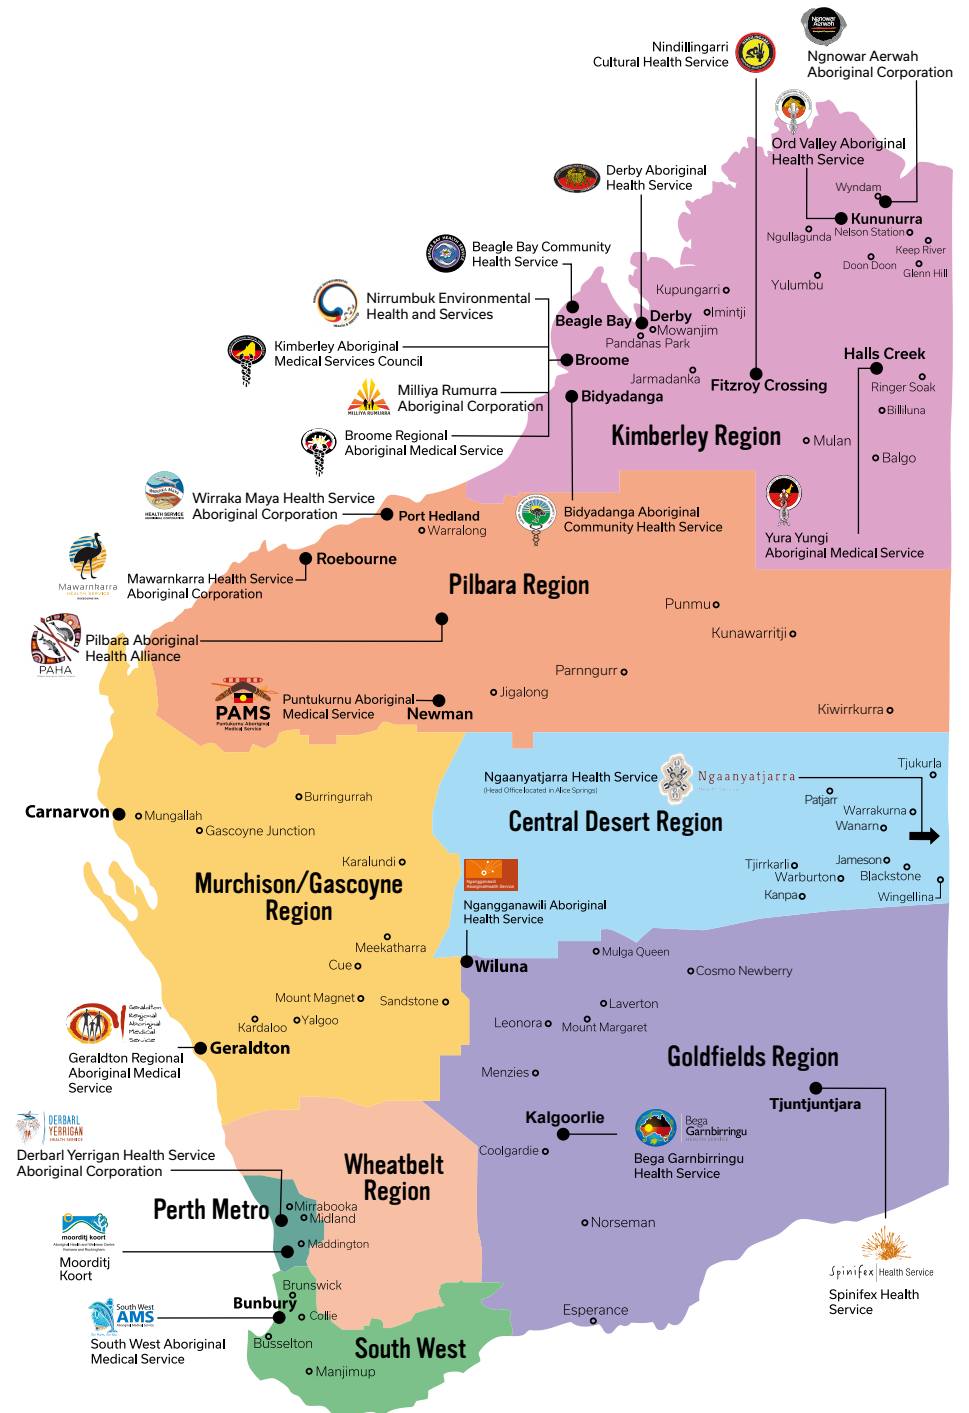

Operating 75 clinics.

Offering over 24 different types of health and wellbeing services specifically designed to meet the health needs of local Aboriginal people.

Providing high quality, holistic, and culturally safe care to over 50,000 Aboriginal and 10,000 non-Aboriginal patients around the State.

Delivering around 500,000 episodes of care per annum.

Providing relevant and comprehensive training for Aboriginal health workers and practitioners, clinic experience for nurses, and registrar training for general practitioners.

2025 Program Overview

Monday, 30 June 2025

WA Aboriginal
Youth Conference
(Youth Delegates only)

The WA Aboriginal Youth Conference is an event exclusively for Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Youth aged 16 to 29 years to come together for a day of personal and professional development and connection with other like-minded young people. The Conference provides opportunities to network, share information, support each other, and be inspired by those who are achieving success in their field. Recommendations and outcomes from the Youth Conference are presented to the State Sector Conference to ensure the youth voice is heard.

Delegates are generally youth working in health and related industries, high school students, university and TAFE students, youth displaying leadership in their communities, and youth from rural and remote Aboriginal communities. 80 -100 youth attend.

A trestle style exhibition is held concurrently with the Youth Conference. Exhibitors are generally organisations promoting career pathways and education, products and services, or seeking an opportunity to engage with youth delegates.

2025 Program Overview

Wednesday, 2 and
Thursday, 3 July 2025

WA Aboriginal
Community Controlled
Health Sector
Conference

The State Sector Conference brings together health care professionals working across our Member Services and those working more generally in Aboriginal Health throughout Australia. Guest speakers highlight the work of trailblazers in the Sector, those who are creating new possibilities, and innovative programs and advancing technology to improve the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal people.

Through a series of informative and inspiring plenary sessions, educational presentations, and interesting panel discussions: hear from leaders in the Sector, and from State and Commonwealth Government representatives and the National Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisation about future directions in funding and programs in the Aboriginal health and the ACCHS Sector.

A trestle style exhibition is held concurrently with the State Sector Conference. Exhibitors are generally those who wish to promote their products and services to the sector and network with representatives from Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisations across the state.

2025 State Sector Conference Artwork

Kieron Pearce is a Goreng Noongar artist and graphic designer, with connections to Whadjuk boodjar, and grew up on Menang boodjar in Albany, WA. Inspired by this year's theme, "Nurturing a Strong Tomorrow Through Culture, Care, and Community," Kalyokool - Forever was created for our 2025 Conference.

This piece starts with our ancestors, symbolised by 24 stars, each representing a guiding light. Journey lines connect these stars to the centre, passing through six layers that represent the 60,000+ years of the world's oldest continuous living culture. The ripples in each layer symbolise the knowledge and culture passed down through generations, like a fingerprint marking our past.

At the centre is a meeting place where people from all backgrounds come together. The first ring shows 24 people gathered around a fire, representing AHCWA and its 23 Member Services, surrounded by dots that symbolize the community we serve and our shared commitment and hope for a better future.

As you move inward, swirling elements lead to a central campfire, a place of deep spiritual significance where stories, memories, and dances are shared. The colors in this piece are inspired by the beauty of a sunset, with yellows, oranges, purples, and blues reflecting the night sky as stars emerge.

This is a tribute to nurturing a strong tomorrow through culture, care, and community.
